

Waterford GAA partner with Clubber TV for Live Streaming of 2022 Club Championships

Waterford GAA in partnership with Clubber TV has today announced it will live stream 2022 Club Championship matches for the coming season.

Clubber TV, an Irish company founded by Jimmy Doyle, provide end-to-end live streaming and AI match analysis for GAA and other sports organisations to bring live games to fans across the globe.

Clubber's Head of Business Development, Lar Doyle said he was "excited to be working with Waterford GAA in this new partnership where we want to bring to life as many games as possible in partnership with local broadcasters. We are also delighted to work with Tomás Kiely and his team at RUA TV as one of our key broadcast partners in Waterford."

Waterford GAA Chairman, Seán Michael O'Regan said "we are looking forward to working with an Irish company, Clubber, in providing streaming access to live games for the upcoming Club Championships. We believe their innovative and easy to use service will allow our dedicated supporters to access our games."

All games can be viewed online via Smart TV, tablet, mobile phone, or laptop.
